

Holistic Livestock Care

Holistic Livestock Care

3 Friday Sessions: February 12th, 19th, 26th (9am - 3 pm)
Tour of My Ranch on Saturday: January 27th, 2010

Topics of Discussion: Livestock Nutrition, Grass Fed Movement,
Styles of Management, Intensive Management, Making a Holistic Goal

Includes Meals:

Coffee, Fruit & Danishes each Friday Morning
Full Lunch & Drinks each Friday Lunch
Light Drinks and Snacks at Saturday Tour

Includes Book:

“Small Scale Livestock Farming”
Carol Ekarius

Instructor:

Dr. Catherine Tull, DVM, MPH
Homeopathic & Holistic Practitioner

Holistic Livestock Care

Location:
Concan Community Center
1/2 Mile East of the Frio on SH 127 in Concan, Texas

Cost:
$150 Per Person
Due By:
February 5, 2010

Payable To Concert Brass
8721 CR 336
Sabinal, TX 78881

For More Information:
www.concertbrass.com
Audrey Jones, Manager
(830) 261-0638

Holistic veterinary medicine differs from "conventional" veterinary medicine in that it takes a more natural and common sense approach to your livestock healthcare. Through proper nutrition, regular daily care, avoidance of toxins, and minimization of emotional stress, the body's own immune system becomes strengthened, enabling the body to heal itself and to ward off possible disease. Holistic medicine avoids the overuse or often misuse of many drugs, antibiotics, steroids, artificial chemicals, vaccinations, and other treatments. Instead it treats mostly with proper diet, natural whole-food and herbal dietary supplements, homeopathic treatments, and alternative "ages-old" treatments.

Full Name _____

Business Name _____

Mailing Address _____

City, State, Zip _____

Phone Number(s) _____

How did you hear about this class? _____

What kind of animal is your primary interest? _____